In part two of our NeoCon 2017 report, we're focusing on some of the best flooring products and finishes we spotted — from carpet and vinyl tile to high-performance coatings and color-changing film — that commercial architects and interior designers will want to know about for workplace, institutional and retail projects in particular.

Chemetal: Glowing Metals

While this new metallic-HPL and anodized aluminum sheet collection includes gorgeous new finishes such as blue brushed aluminum and aged brass, its new embossed metal designs are what stole the show for us. These dimensional products sport either a triangle pattern or retro-looking domes and are backed with laminate. The sheets come in a 4-by-8-foot format, making them ideal for a number of interior applications.
